

A DICTIONARY OF UMPITHAMU

With notes on Middle Paman

JEAN-CHRISTOPHE VERSTRAETE, CONSULTANT
EDITOR FLORRIE BASSANI, JOAN LIDDY

- An extensive dictionary of the language of Cape York Peninsula — the first for the region since the 1990s
- Extending our knowledge of the genetic status of Umpithamu, and the linguistic history of Cape York Peninsula more generally, provides cognate forms and reconstructions for many entries

Umpithamu is a language of the Princess Charlotte Bay region on the east coast of Cape York Peninsula, in northeastern Australia. This dictionary provides detailed information about the grammar, meaning and use of Umpithamu words, generously illustrated with example sentences. All information can also be accessed through an index of English translations, organised alphabetically and thematically.

For users with more specific interests, like linguists, anthropologists and biologists, the dictionary further offers phonetic transcriptions, cognates and (Middle) Paman reconstructions for most words, as well as ethnographic notes and identifications of plant and animal species.

THE DHURGA DICTIONARY AND LEARNERS GRAMMAR

A south-east coast NSW Aboriginal language
COMPILED BY PATRICIA ELLIS, KERRY BOYENGA, WAINE DONOVAN

- This publication is the most concise compilation of the Dhurga language to date with over 730 words including informant and recorder details as validation of authenticity

The Dhurga Dictionary and Learners Grammar: A South-East Coast NSW Aboriginal Language is an overdue and extremely valuable resource for the Dhurga speaking people of Yuin Country and of any person wanting to learn the traditional language. The Dhurga language is spoken from south of Nowra to Narooma and west to Braidwood and Araluen. The dictionary is user-friendly for all literacy levels and readers and it is the very first of its kind and in high demand.

Siblings Patricia Ellis, Kerry Boyenga and Waine Donovan are all teachers with over 80 years' of collective experience in the education system. All three have been teaching the Dhurga language since early 2000. They are extremely passionate and proud of their Aboriginal culture and language and have worked tirelessly in their efforts to see the publication of The Dhurga Dictionary and Learners Grammar: A South-East Coast NSW Aboriginal Language. This is their gift to their language community.

NGIYAMPAA WORDWORLD

Thipingku Yuwi, Maka Ngiya, Names of Birds and Other Words, Second Edition
 COMPILED BY TAMSIN DONALDSON

- This second edition contains illustrations, photographs and plenty of maps perfect for students and academics of Aboriginal studies, linguistics, social science, anthropology, cultural studies, colonialism, native title, land claims and more

The Wangaaypuwan dialect of Ngiyampaa is the language of the Pilaarrkiyalu, Nhiilyikiyalu and Karulkiyalu people that come from the dry, riverless country of Western NSW. Some people still live in and around the ngurrampaa ‘homelands’ but many now live in larger towns and cities around NSW and other states and territories.

Ngiyampaa Wordworld: Thipingku Yuwi, Maka Ngiya; Names of Birds and Other Words includes stories, example sentences and songs. The second half of the dictionary is dedicated to bird names (and other words). The dictionary includes an English to Ngiyampaa finderlist, which is also useful for looking up words in Ngiyampaa.

BEEF CATTLE PRODUCTION AND TRADE

EDITED BY DAVID COTTLE, LEWIS KAHN

- New paperback edition
- Provides an overview of world beef consumption and production, meat quality and preparation for market
- Contains an emphasis on Australian beef production, and summaries of beef production in North America, Brazil, China, SE Asia and Japan

This is an international text with an emphasis on Australian beef production, written by experts in the field. The book begins with an overview of the historical evolution of world beef consumption and introductory chapters on carcass and meat quality, market preparation and world beef production. North America, Brazil, China, South-East Asia and Japan are discussed in separate chapters, followed by Australian beef production, including feed lotting and live export. The remaining chapters summarise R&D, emphasising the Australian experience, and look at different production systems and aspects of animal husbandry. The final chapter examines various case studies in northern and southern Australia, covering feed demand and supply, supplements, pasture management, heifer and weaner management, and management of internal and external parasites.

TRIBUTE AND TRADE

China and Global Modernity, 1784–1935

EDITED BY WILLIAM CHRISTIE, ANGELA DUNSTAN & Q.S. TONG

- Essential reading for anyone interested in the historical background to relations between China and the West
- Chapters by Chinese, Australian, European and American authors offer a range of perspectives

In the 18th and 19th centuries, relations between China and the West were defined by the Qing dynasty's strict restrictions on foreign access and by the West's imperial ambitions. Cultural, political and economic interactions were often fraught, with suspicion and misunderstanding on both sides. Yet trade flourished and there were instances of cultural exchange and friendship, running counter to the official narrative.

Tribute and Trade: China and Global Modernity explores encounters between China and the West during this period and beyond, into the early 20th century, through examples drawn from art, literature, science, politics, music, cooking, clothing and more. How did China and the West see each other, how did they influence each other, and what were the lasting legacies of this contact?

CHINESE TELEVISION AND SOFT POWER COMMUNICATION IN AUSTRALIA
MEI LI

- A timely, important account and systemic test of the success of China’s soft power drive and its connection to a global field
- Mei Li holds a PhD in international communication from Macquarie University, Australia

Chinese Television and Soft Power Communication in Australia discusses China’s soft power communication approach and investigates information handling between China and its targeted audiences in the eyes of key influencers — intermediate elites (public diplomacy policy elites in particular) in China and Australia.

It explores CGTN and conducts a systemic test of how successful/unsuccessful China’s soft power message projection is in terms of congruence between projected and received frames as a pivotal factor of its power status. The analysis is based on a case study of frames in the messaging on Chinese international TV about China’s Belt and Road Initiative and in the minds of Australian public diplomacy policy elites. The question raised is whether and how Australia is listening.

ASIA’S NEW GEOPOLITICS
Essays on Reshaping the Indo-Pacific
MICHAEL R. AUSLIN, FOREWORD BY NIALL FERGUSON

- Examines the key issues transforming the Indo-Pacific and the broader world

The Indo-Pacific is fast becoming the world’s most dominate region. Now, as it grows in power and wealth, geopolitical competition has re-emerged, threatening future stability not merely in Asia but around the globe. The focus on Sino-US competition for global power has obscured ‘Asia’s other great game’ — the rivalry between Japan and China. In North Korea, the most frightening question raised by Kim Jong-un’s pursuit of the ultimate weapon is also the simplest — can he control his nukes?

Here, Auslin also explores the history of American strategy in Asia, from the 18th century to today. Taken together, these essays convey the richness and diversity of the region: with more than three billion people, the Indo-Pacific region contains over half of the global population, including the world’s two most populous nations — India and China. In a riveting final chapter, Auslin images a war between America and China for regional hegemony and what this conflict might look like.

THE SIMPLE TRUTH The Monochrome in Modern Art

SIMON MORLEY

- The first global account of the monochrome in modern art, this is an important contribution to the ongoing debate about the legacy of modernism

The monochrome — a single-colour work of art — is highly ambiguous. For some it epitomises purity, and is art reduced to its essence. For others it is just a stunt — the emperor's new clothes. Why are monochromes so admired, yet such an easy target of scorn? In this illuminating book Simon Morley unpacks the meanings of the monochrome as it developed internationally over the twentieth century to today.

DO YOU COMPUTE?

Selling Tech from the Atomic Age to the Y2K Bug 1950-1999
 RYAN MUNGIA, STEVEN HELLER

- A broad guide featuring the very best of computer advertising in the 20th century

In the 1950s, computers were on a rung that existed somewhere between engineering and science fiction to the public. By the end of the millennium, the notion of selling tech burst wide open to include robots, cell phones, blogs, online dating services, and much, much more. Accompanied by two essays — one by cultural anthropologist Ryan Mungia and the other by graphic design historian Steven Heller — and including five different decade-long timelines that highlight some of the most influential moments in computer history, this fun yet meaningful volume is a unique look at the computer and how it has shaped our world.

RICHARD TITMUSS

A Commitment to Welfare

JOHN STEWART

- This is the first full-length biography of Richard Titmuss, a pioneer of social policy research and an influential figure in Britain's post-war welfare debates

Drawing on his own papers, publications, and interviews with those who knew him, this book discusses Titmuss's ideas, formed around the principles of altruism and social solidarity, as well as his role in policy and academic networks locally and overseas. This is an enlightening portrait of a man who deepened our understanding of social problems as well as the policies that respond most effectively to them.

SCHOOL SCANDALS

Blowing the Whistle on the Corruption of Our Education System

PAT THOMSON

- An analysis of the media articles, academic books and digital dissertations on the scattered reporting of bad behaviour, drawing attention to its systemic nature

Thomson takes on England's muddled education system, highlighting failings caused by the actions of ministers in successive governments. While corrupt actions are taken by some, it is predominantly the corruption of the system that is at fault. She exposes fraudulent, and unethical practices, including the skewing of the curriculum and manipulation of results. Thomson argues for an urgent review of current practices leading to a revitalised education system that has the public good at its heart.

TRAMONTO

SHUBIN DONALDSON

- Tramonto embodies a truly contemporary Southern California attitude and the essential principles of indoor/outdoor living afforded by embracing the temperate region and the natural beauty of the coastal landscape

Tramonto is a contemporary single-family home that integrates the natural beauty of the adjacent state park and ocean views. The placement of the home overlooks the canyon, the surrounding Santa Monica Mountains, and the California coastline. The diffusion of the built form defines the approach for this 17,000 sqft single-family residence into the surrounding landscape. From the initial conceptualisation of the exterior form to the construction process and key moments, this book presents the visual story of the home's integration into the Southern California landscape.

AS FOUND HOUSES

Experiments from self-builders in rural China

JOHN LIN, SONY DEVABHAKTUNI

- As Found Houses is a guide to the surprising design decisions found in the domestic architecture of rural China and a resource for thinking about contemporary design

In rural China, an informal wave of building catalysed by economic and social developments has rendered some villages unrecognisable. This building boom, taking place in a context of limited regulations, has created densities more often found in urban areas. At the same time, the rapid transformation of rural villages has generated some remarkable hybrid experiments.

BRACKET

Takes Action

EDITED BY NEERAJ BHATIA, MASON WHITE

- Bracket is situated at a critical point in architectural history where the who, what, where, and how of action need to be re-conceptualised to relate to who we are, how we live, and communicate today

The rise of several divisive leaders within contemporary politics, has once again brought action to the foreground. As a new generation makes their voices heard, they are also grappling to find effective platforms for action through design. The notion of action simultaneously evokes a discussion on what we are acting for and value.

CITY OF REFUGEES

A Real Utopia

EDITED BY PETER JAY ZWEIG, GAIL PETER BORDEN

- Where should they go? 70 million displaced refugees and asylum seekers with no passport, no money, and no worldly goods

In 380 B.C. Plato wrote about the 'Ideal City,' but it wasn't until 1516 AD that Sir Thomas More invented the word, 'Utopia', translated from Greek as 'good place,' that is in need of a new, contemporary interpretation. It is within the framework of utopia that the City of Refugees represents a place that transcends the fate of the refugee and the reason they were torn from their homeland and not given safe haven fleeing their country.

ARCHITECTURE STUFF and More Stuff

ROBERT LIVESEY

- Architecture Stuff and More Stuff examines seven seminal projects and shows how they might have been conceived with or without the design architect's awareness

More a working method than a theory, Architecture Stuff deals with questions pertinent to designers as well as to critics of buildings. It illustrates how that same method can be used to make architecture. The seven buildings are chosen for their breadth of styles and approaches to architecture and show that this approach to architecture can be applied to any building. These critique expose how the architect used that idea to juxtapose the clerical and the civic to develop all of the details in the building.

A YOUNGER TEN

Writing the Ten-Minute Play

GARY GARRISON

- A guide book for teachers and beginning students alike on the craft of playwrighting, to kick-start creativity with well-informed techniques

In A Younger Ten: Writing the Ten-Minute Play, Gary Garrison distills the playwrighting guidance pioneered in his widely consulted Perfect Ten and A More Perfect Ten, here recast for the needs of aspiring ten-minute playwrights at the high school level.

Not satisfied with merely telling how such a play is crafted, Garrison includes a new all-star lineup of eight complete ten-minute plays by a variety of playwrights, emerging as well as established, that can serve as models for writers just starting out in the genre.

SCENES AND TRACES OF THE ENGLISH CIVIL WAR

STEPHEN BANN

- Features entirely new material about the conflict which has not been examined before

The English Civil War has become a frequent point of reference in contemporary political debate. A bitter and bloody series of conflicts, it shook the very foundations of seventeenth-century Britain.

This is the first attempt to portray the visual legacy of this period, as passed down, revisited and periodically reworked over two and a half centuries of subsequent English history.

NAZI CRIMES AND THEIR PUNISHMENT, 1943-1950

A Short History with Documents

MICHAEL S. BRYANT

'With this timely book, Michael Bryant presents a wide-ranging survey of the trials of Nazi war criminals in the wartime and immediate postwar period.

Introduced by an extensive historical survey putting these proceedings into their international context, this volume makes the case, central to Hackett's collection for undergraduate courses, that these events constituted a 'key moment' that has influenced the course of history. Appended to Bryant's analysis is a substantial section of primary sources that should stimulate student discussion and raise questions that are pertinent to warfare and human rights abuses today.' — Michael R. Marrus, Chancellor Rose and Ray Wolfe Professor Emeritus of Holocaust Studies at the University of Toronto

ZHUANGZI: THE COMPLETE WRITINGS

ZHUANGZI, TRANSLATED BY BROOK ZIPORYN

Brook Ziporyn's carefully crafted, richly annotated translation of the complete writings of Zhuangzi, including a lucid introduction, a glossary of essential terms, and a bibliography that provides readers with an engaging and provocative deep dive into this magical work.

'More than any other translation, Ziporyn's style manages to convey the playfulness, exuberance, and strangeness of the original text while maintaining a level of precision that allows for careful study and philosophical analysis. There are no perfect translations, but it is hard to imagine that a translation of the Zhuangzi can get any better than this one.'

MIND AND BRAIN

A Dialogue on the Mind-Body Problem, Second Edition

ROCCO J. GENNARO

- Includes study questions designed to enhance classroom discussion and serve as a resource for the development of paper topics

Since its publication in 1996, many thousands of students have first encountered key issues in the philosophy of mind in the pages of Rocco J. Gennaro's introductory work, Mind and Brain: A Dialogue on the Mind-Body Problem. In this new edition, Gennaro updates and expands the work to reflect current topics and discussions. The dialogue provides a clear and compelling overview of the mind-body problem suitable for both introductory students and those who have some background in the philosophy of mind.

HOUSING SHOCK
The Irish Housing Crisis and How to Solve It

RORY HEARNE

- Examines new, innovative forms of public/not-for-profit affordable housing and makes the case for giving a legal basis to the right to housing

The deepening housing crisis in Ireland is having profound social, political and economic impacts on equality, wellbeing and health. Hearne contextualises the disastrous Irish housing crisis within the broader global phenomenon and examines the origins of the contemporary crisis in housing in terms of the extension of neoliberalism, marketisation and financialisation in housing. He brings to the fore the personal voices, stories and perspectives of those most affected and the activists who are campaigning on the issue.

THE GOOD GLOW
Charity and the Symbolic Power of Doing Good

JON DEAN

- A theoretical exploration into those 'doing charity' in relation to the concept's symbolic influence, and how we can critique contemporary charity works
- Discussion of charity at the individual giving level, rather than a focus on elite giving which is far more common

Doing charity work is usually seen as a 'good thing': socially worthy, a sign of moral value, an exhibition of an individual's inherent altruism and kindness. But how exactly does this symbolic power operate and what happens when it is misused?

A CITY DIVIDED

Race, Fear and the Law in Police Confrontations

DAVID A. HARRIS

- The story of Jordan Miles vs Pittsburgh Police

When a high school honours student emerges from a police confrontation outside his home bruised and beaten, and facing serious criminal charges, an American city erupts in protests and a long quest for justice begins. A City Divided uncovers what happened and examines if race, fear and police conduct answer key questions that have become all too familiar. What goes wrong in these police confrontations and why? Can the courts find justice? And how can we prevent these tragedies in the future?

TIME AMONG THE MAYA

Travels in Belize, Guatemala and Mexico

RONALD WRIGHT

- ‘Time Among the Maya shows Ronald Wright to be far more than a mere storyteller or descriptive writer. He is an historical philosopher with a profound understanding of other cultures.’ — Jan Morris, *Independent Times

The Maya of Central America created one of the most dazzling civilisations on this earth, often compared to Ancient Greece. The Maya had a delight in creation, expressed in art, architecture, pottery, astronomy, mathematics and mythology, all combined with a deep, metaphysical fascination with time. This civilisation seems to have collapsed in the ninth century, some five hundred years before the Spanish conquest of America.
